

March 2017

Call for representatives of youth NGOs or networks to participate in the Advisory Council on Youth 2018-2019

The Council of Europe's youth works on the basis of a partnership between non-governmental youth organisations and governments, in what is known as the co-management system. This means that representatives from non-governmental youth organisations (NGYOs) and youth networks sit down with government officials to establish the work priorities of the youth sector and make recommendations for future budgets and programmes. These proposals are then adopted by the Committee of Ministers, the Council of Europe's decision-making body.

In this context, the Advisory Council on Youth, the non-governmental partner in the co-management system, also has the task of formulating opinions and proposals regarding youth questions within the Council of Europe (see Appendix I for details). This body comprises twenty representatives of youth organisations and national youth councils which are members of the European Youth Forum and ten other members, representing non-governmental youth organisations or networks that are not members of the European Youth Forum.

The composition of the Advisory Council should reflect as much as possible the reality of youth and youth work in Europe. Its members represent the voice of European youth within the Council of Europe.

The Council of Europe Youth Department is part of the Directorate General of Democracy (DGII), Directorate of Democratic Citizenship and Participation. The Department elaborates guidelines, programmes and legal instruments for the development of coherent and effective youth policies at local, national and European levels. It provides funding and educational support for international youth activities aiming at the promotion of youth citizenship, youth mobility and the value of human rights, democracy and cultural pluralism. It seeks to bring together and disseminate expertise and knowledge about the life situations, aspirations and ways of expression of young Europeans. For more information on the Council of Europe's youth sector and co-management see: www.coe.int/youth.

Criteria for selection of 10 members in the Advisory Council who are not members of the European Youth Forum

Representatives of non-governmental youth organisations or networks in Council of Europe member states, not members of the European Youth Forum, are invited to apply for a seat on the Advisory Council on Youth for a two-year mandate (2018-2019).

Candidates, aged between 18 and 30, should have a mandate from their organisation/network to actively participate in the work of the Advisory Council and preferably have experience in at least one of the following priority areas<sup>1</sup>:

1. Young people accessing their rights and advocating for human rights and citizenship education

- a. Implementation and dissemination of the Committee of Ministers Recommendation CM/Rec\(2016\)7 on young people's access to rights (following a roadmap to be approved by the Joint Council on Youth in 2017);
- b. Recommendation CM/Rec\(2015\)3 on the access of young people from disadvantaged neighbourhoods to social rights (Enter Recommendation);
- c. Continuation of the Human Rights Education Youth Programme including media literacy with children and young people;
- d. Implementation of the Council of Europe Charter on Education for Democratic Citizenship and Human Rights Education, based on the conclusion of the review.

1. Youth participation and youth work

- a. Removing barriers for youth civil society to organise itself and participate (including legal barriers);
- b. Supporting youth participation in Internet Governance processes (taking into consideration the results of the NHSM campaign evaluation)
- c. Supporting member States and youth organisations in implementing the principles of the Revised European Charter on the Participation of Young People in Local and Regional life, further dissemination of the "Have your say" manual to public authorities and non-governmental sector;
- d. Supporting the dissemination and implementation of the future Committee of Ministers' Recommendation on youth work (following the road map and mid-term strategy to be developed in 2017);
- e. Supporting the dissemination of the Council of Europe Youth Work Portfolio;
- f. Measures to support the quality development and the recognition of youth work and non-formal education and learning in the programme of the European Youth Centres and their dissemination to member states (e.g. through training staff of Youth Centres having been awarded with the Council of Europe Quality Label for Youth Centres).

3. Inclusive and peaceful societies

- a. Combating all forms of discrimination and exclusion, with a specific focus on:
  - Roma youth participation
  - Social inclusion of young refugees and their transition from childhood to adulthood
  - Multiple discrimination and intersectionality<sup>2</sup> (including gender equality, sexual orientation LGBTQI, gender identity and disability);
- b. Enabling young people to promote peaceful societies by providing them with opportunities to play an active role in:
  - Intercultural dialogue/learning
  - Preventing violent extremism (following up on the NHSM)
  - Peace-building and conflict transformation
  - Cooperation with neighbouring and other world regions.

<sup>2</sup> "Intersectionality is a sociological theory about how an individual can face multiple threats of discrimination when their identities overlap a number of minority classes, such as race, gender, age, ethnicity, health and other characteristics". The theory of intersectionality comes from Kimberlé Crenshaw and her 1989 essay "Mapping the Margins: Intersectionality, Identity Politics, and Violence Against Women of Color"

In addition, the following elements will be taken into account:

- experience of youth work and youth policy at European level, especially in an intercultural setting;
- interest in developing new proposals for the work of the youth sector corresponding to the needs of young people in Europe and the Council of Europe's core values;
- motivation, availability and commitment to attend meetings and contribute in writing to consultations and opinions;
- interest in representing the Advisory Council in activities relevant to its work;
- good analytical and conceptual thinking.

All of the Advisory Council's work is carried out in English.

Please see Appendix II for the scale to use when indicating the level of English in the application form.

Organisations which have not previously co-operated with the Youth Department of the Directorate of Democratic Citizenship and Participation, in particular those which operate in other fields of action of the Council of Europe (e.g. human rights, democracy - pluralist and participative, social inclusion, migration, disability, media and information society etc.) and which have a youth structure are strongly encouraged to submit applications. They are also invited to submit a brief description of their structure and past, present and planned activities.

In order to ensure as varied a representation as possible as well as continuity in the work of the Advisory Council, the selection of the 10 representatives will aim at having a good age, gender and geographical balance as well as a good balance between representatives of new organisations and representatives of organisations/networks which have already been members of the Advisory Council.

Deadline for applications

Applications together with a supporting letter from the organisation represented, should be submitted on-line at <http://youthapplications.coe.int/Application-forms> by 31 May 2017 (midday, CET).

Selections will be announced in July 2017 and submitted for approval by the Committee of Ministers in the autumn.

APPENDIX I

ADVISORY COUNCIL ON YOUTH

The Advisory Council on Youth (AC) is composed of thirty members:

- Thirteen representatives of international non-governmental youth organisations (INGYOs) designated by the Committee of Ministers on the proposal of the European Youth Forum;
- Seven representatives of national youth councils properly constituted in the States party to the European Cultural Convention, and other States which participate in the activities of the programme of the Youth Department, designated by the Committee of Ministers on the proposal of the European Youth Forum;
- Ten representatives of non-governmental youth organisations or networks not members of the European Youth Forum, designated by the Committee of Ministers on the proposal of the Council of Europe's Secretary General.

The AC is the non-governmental partner in the co-managed bodies of the youth sector. It has the task of formulating opinions and proposals on any question concerning youth dealt with within the Council of Europe.

According to its terms of reference, the AC has the following tasks:

- To contribute to the effective mainstreaming of youth policies across the Council of Europe programme of activities by formulating opinions and proposals on general or specific questions concerning youth in the Council of Europe; where appropriate, to address these opinions and proposals to the Committee of Ministers or other bodies of the Council of Europe. The Advisory Council on Youth may also be invited by the Committee of Ministers to formulate opinions on general or specific questions concerning youth policy;
- To formulate opinions and proposals concerning the priorities, expected results and budget allocations for the youth sector;
- To designate for two years, from among its members, those who shall be invited to represent it in the Programming Committee on Youth (CPJ), the co-management body in charge of establishing the programme of activities of the youth sector.

The AC elects a Bureau, made up of a Chairperson, a Vice-Chairperson and three other members, who meet in between the plenary sessions of the AC (two times per year).

During the past years the AC has made important contributions to the priority fields of work of the Council of Europe, notably by developing innovative proposals in response to topical issues. For example, it was at the origin of the campaign "No Hate Speech Movement" which should empower online activists to take action against hate speech on line and to promote and defend human rights on line. The AC was also instrumental in the drafting of Recommendation CM/Rec\(2016\)7 of the Committee of Ministers to member States on young people's access to rights and the Recommendation CM/Rec\(2015\)3 on the access of young people from disadvantaged neighbourhoods to social rights, adopted in January 2015. It is currently involved in drafting a Recommendation on youth work.

The Advisory Council co-operates with other sectors of the Council of Europe; the Parliamentary Assembly (PACE); the Congress of Local and Regional Authorities; and the Commissioner of Human Rights.

The overall programme of the youth sector is implemented bearing in mind the importance of taking the youth dimension better into consideration in other activity sectors of the Council of Europe. This implies in particular:

- the participation of representatives of the statutory bodies of the youth sector in a number of intergovernmental steering committees and other working structures of the Council of Europe;
- the consultation of the Advisory Council on Youth by the Committee of Ministers or by subordinated intergovernmental committees, regarding legal texts which have a specific impact on young people;
- the active co-operation of the youth sector with other sectors of the Council of Europe and its participation in the multidisciplinary programmes of the Organisation.

The members of the Advisory Council remain in permanent contact in between the statutory meetings (through various expert/working groups), which develops a spirit of co-operation and a collective approach to the issues at stake.

The Advisory Council normally holds two plenary sessions a year. In addition, it is invited to send representatives to a variety of activities, some of a statutory nature (Programming Committee on Youth, Partial Agreement on Youth Mobility through the Youth Card, Joint Co-ordinating Committee with ERYICA, Management Board of the Partnership between the Council of Europe and the European Commission in the field of youth, Executive Committee of the North-South Centre, and some of a more ad-hoc nature (hearings of the Parliamentary Assembly, Congress (youth) sessions, events of the Conference of the INGO's, European Social Cohesion Platform, conferences organised by other Council of Europe sectors, working/expert groups on specific issues).

Here are a few examples of recent events attended and processes followed by members of the Advisory Council on Youth:

- Drafting of a new recommendations on youth work to be reviewed for adoption in 2017
- Statements and opinions on:
  - PACE Resolution "Sport for all: bridge to equality integration and social inclusion
